DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "...the electronic circuit is connected to a circuit for regulating one or more valves for adjusting the measured pressure..." recited in claim 1; the "low energy or battery section... IR or Blue Tooth" recited in claim 6 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.

Claim 1 recites the limitation "the end of that duct in the channel" in line 4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Regarding claim 1, the phrase "for example" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitation(s) following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim 2 is indefinite for the alternative embodiment of claim 1 which has one duct.

In claim 2, the recitation "one liquid duct and a number of gas ducts" appears to be a double inclusion of the "one or more ducts" recited in claim 1, line 2.

Claim 5 recites "...the electron circuit is rehearsed to store..." It is uncertain what is meant by rehearsed in the context in which it is used.

Above is an exemplary listing. Applicant is required to review and amend all of the claims in their entirety for full compliance with 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ohhashi et al. (4,556,815).

Ohhashi discloses a nozzle 2 having a duct 27; a pressure indicator 20; an electronic circuit 21; a circuit 17, 18, 19; a valve 5.

Regarding claim 3, the manner in which the "circuit" is intended to be employed, "for converting an analog signal to a digital signal," does not distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art which discloses the claimed structural elements.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 3-6, 9, 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ohhashi et al. (4,556,815).

Ohhashi discloses the limitations of the claimed invention with the exception of the CPU, data medium and IR or Blue Tooth. These components are well known in the art. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have utilized modern day computer technology in the device of Ohhashi for speed and convenience.
